The Divorce Act (Canada)

The Federal Child Support Guidelines

www.justice.gc.ca/eng/pi/fcy-fea/lib-bib/pub/guide/index.html

The Divorce Act (Canada) provides the following definitions:

Child of the Marriage...

"child of the marriage" means a child of two spouses or former spouses who, at the material time,

(a) is under the age of majority and who has not withdrawn from their charge, or

(b) is the age of majority or over and under their charge but unable, by reason of illness, disability or other cause, to withdraw from their charge or to obtain the necessaries of life;

Section (b) would typically refer to a child who is over the age of majority but still attending school full time.

Age of Majority...

"age of majority", in respect of a child, means the age of majority as determined by the laws of the province where the child ordinarily resides, or, if the child ordinarily resides outside of Canada, eighteen years of age;

The age of majority in Saskatchewan is 18 years.

Regarding Step-parents...

For the purposes of the definition "child of the marriage" in subsection (1), a child of two spouses or former spouses includes:

(a) any child for whom they both stand in the place of parents; and

(b) any child of whom one is the parent and for whom the other stands in the place of a parent.

Line 401: Name of Employer

Please tell us the full name of your employer. This information is required in the divorce documents. We do not need to know an address or telephone number.

Line 402: Gross Annual Income

Child support payable is generally calculated pursuant to the Federal Child Support Guidelines using the income as stated in Line 150 of your most recent income tax return. Gross annual income includes income generated as a result of employment insurance benefits, social assistance benefits and disability benefits, among others.

Further information regarding the calculation of income can be found on the Guidelines website found above.

Please insert your gross annual income here.

Line 403: Name

Please complete the full legal name of each child of the marriage. If you have more than four children, please attach an additional sheet.

Line 404: Date of Birth

Please complete the date of birth of each child of the marriage.

Line 405: Resides With

Please check the box which indicates which parent each child of the marriage primarily resides with.

Check "both" if the child resides a minimum of 40% of the time with each parents.

Line 406: Custody Type

The term custody is vague and generally refers to who has the primary day to day care and decision making responsibilities for a child. However, there are several possible custody scenarios.

The following information is an excerpt from a legal website. If you are unsure as to what your particular custody scenario in your unique circumstance, you may wish to speak with a family lawyer.

"Sole custody occurs when a child lives primarily with one parent.

Joint custody occurs when a child either lives with both parents equally or lives mostly with one parent (the child's primary residence) but the parents have agreed to share equally the rights and responsibilities for that child. This involves a high level of communication and shared decision-making between the parents."

Custody can also be described in other terms but sole custody and joint custody are the terms used most often.

Note: Because custody arrangements are as flexible as the parents who make them, you need to define for yourself what you want if you are seeking joint custody. Be sure you and the other parent agree on what joint custody means.

Line 407: Who has Medical Coverage?

Please check the box which indicates which parent has medical insurance coverage for each child of the marriage.

Line 408: Who has Dental Coverage?

Please check the box which indicates which parent has dental insurance coverage for each child of the marriage, if there is coverage available.

Line 409: Describe access arrangements

Please set out what the access arrangements are for the children of the marriage. Ensure that the information you provide here is as detailed as possible, keeping in mind that your exact words will be used in your documents. Do not simply refer us to the terms of a separation agreement or court order. You must be specific here.

Please note that the Saskatchewan Courts will require a copy of your most recent tax return and a copy of the Canada Revenue Tax Notice of Assessment or Reassessment. These documents will become part of your court file and are mandatory for everyone that have children. Please include a copy of your most recent tax return and Notice of Assessment with this application.

Line 410: Amount of agreed monthly child support being paid

Pursuant to S. 11(1)(b) of the Divorce Act (Canada), in order to grant a divorce, the court must be satisfied that reasonable arrangements have been made for the financial support of the children of the marriage, giving regard to the applicable guidelines.

What this means is that in order for us to be able to type your divorce documents, child support must be paid in accordance with the Federal Child Support Guidelines.

Please let us know what the exact amount of basic monthly child support being paid is. This amount should not include any special or extraordinary expenses.

Line 411: Child support is paid by...

Please let us know which spouse is paying the monthly child support.

SECTION 5: TYPE OF DIVORCELine 501: What type of divorce do you wish to commence?

The four main differences between a joint and sole divorce are time, cost, co-operation and agreement.

Time & Cost: Joint divorces tend to go a little quicker and are generally less expensive than sole divorces because there is no need for personal service (delivery) of documents and therefore, no waiting period following the service of documents. Also, there is no cost for serving the documents on your spouse.

Co-operation & Agreement: Joint divorces require the co-operation and agreement of both parties in all aspects throughout the entire process. Both parties are required to sign the documents as well as have affidavits notarized. In a sole divorce, only the Applicant signs the documents. They are served on the Defendant. There is no requirement for the other spouse to sign anything.

It is important that you clearly know which route you are wanting to take prior to proceeding. To switch from a joint divorce to a sole divorce after the initial documents have been filed with the Court is both time consuming and costly. Additionally, we would not be able to assist you any further.

SECTION 6: ADDITIONAL NOTES

Please use this section to tell us anything that may not be covered in any of the previous sections, but that may be relevant to your divorce proceeding.

SECTION 7: LIST OF FEES

We offer two document preparation packages for your convenience.

Platinum Divorce Service: our most popular option – by selecting this service, we will not only type your documents for you but we will also make all the arrangements for the two or more trips to the Court Registry to file your documents. If you are proceeding with a sole divorce, then we will also arrange to have the documents personally served on your spouse. We will manage your divorce proceeding from the beginning through it's completion.

There are some additional third party fees payable. You will have one or more affidavits which will need to be signed in front of a lawyer, notary public or commissioner for taking affidavits. The average cost is approximately $30.00 to $50.00 per affidavit. If you are proceeding with a sole divorce you will need to have your documents personally delivered (served) on your spouse. The average cost of a process server is approximately $50.00 to $150.00. This cost can vary greatly depending upon where your spouse resides and how many attempts are required in order to serve the documents.

Line 701: Registry

Your documents will be filed in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench. In Saskatchewan, divorce documents can be filed at any of the 11 registries. Please let us know which registry you wish your documents to be filed in. A complete list of registries can be found at the end of this section.

Line 702: Initial Documents

The initial documents in a joint divorce proceeding must be signed by both spouses, although you don't have to be in the same room when you sign them, nor do they have to be signed on the same day.

The initial documents in a sole divorce proceeding are signed only by the Applicant and will therefore be sent only to the applicant.

If you are proceeding with a joint divorce, please let us know to which spouse the initial documents are to be sent. Please also note that if you checked "no" at Line 103, we will automatically only send documents to the primary contact.

If you wish your documents to be sent to you by Xpresspost, please see below for the additional fees that will apply.

Line 703: Final Documents

The final documents in a joint divorce proceeding comprise of affidavit(s) for each of the spouses to have notarized.

The final documents in a sole divorce proceeding comprise of a(n) affidavit(s) which only the Applicant has notarized.

If you are proceeding with a joint divorce, please let us know to whom the final documents are to be sent.

If you wish your documents to be sent to you by Xpresspost, please see below for the additional fees that will apply.

Gold Divorce Service: by selecting this service, we will type your divorce documents and send them to you along with comprehensive, but easy to follow, instructions. You will be responsible for the two or more trips to the Court Registry to file your documents. If you are proceeding with a sole divorce, you will be responsible to arrange the service of the documents on your spouse. If you choose this option, our staff will be available at any time to answer any questions you may have.

There are some additional third party fees payable. You will be required to pay the Court Registry filing fees at the time you submit your documents. The filing fees are $295.00. You will have one or more affidavits which will need to be signed in front of a lawyer, notary public or commissioner for taking affidavits. The average cost is approximately $30.00 to $50.00 per affidavit. If you are proceeding with a sole divorce you will need to have your documents personally delivered (served) on your spouse. The average cost of a process server is approximately $50.00 to $150.00. This cost can vary greatly depending upon where your spouse resides and how many attempts are required in order to serve the documents.

Line 704: Registry

You will have to file your documents in the Saskatchewan Court of Queen's Bench. In Saskatchewan, divorce documents can be filed at any of the 11 registries. You may file your documents by mail if you live in an area where there is no registry close by or you are unable to personally attend the registry. Please let us know which registry you wish your documents to be filed in. A complete list of registries can be found at the end of this section.

Line 705: Deliver Documents to Please let us know to whom and how you would like your documents delivered. If you wish your documents to be sent to you by Xpresspost, please see below for the additional fees that will apply.
